Purrsonality: Little Tiny is an outgoing and happy fella who is always up for play or snuggles with his friends, be they people or other cats. He wants to know what is happening and be a part of the action because that's where the fun is, y'know! He is proud of his teeny little white tail tip and his natural eyeliner and charms everyone he meets.

Children? Little Tiny should do well with children of all ages.

Other cats? Little Tiny will need another cat in his home that can tolerate his play needs and activity level, probably one that is less than 2 yrs old.

Dogs? Little Tiny has never been tested with dogs but given his young age should be adaptable if the resident dogs are calm and friendly.

Background: Little Tiny was found living outside in a mobile home park in West Virginia when he was very young. He was introduced to a mother cat with a nursing litter and she accepted him. His human foster mom named him Tiny, but then received an owner surrender named Tiny. That cat is a very large Maine Coon mix, so she began referring to him as "Big Tiny", and to Tiny as "Little Tiny".

Medical or special care notes: Little Tiny has had vaccinations for rabies and distemper, is microchipped, and has been neutered. He has tested negative for FeLV and FIV. He is eating Fancy Feast classic pate and Purina One kibble.
